There is to be a magnificent banquet on the banks of the Doon, which is to be attended by Frof. Aytoun, Dr. McKay, Alexander Smith, and a host of the literary celebrities of the country. In Eirnbergh here, it has been proposed that Lord Brougham proside at a grand demonstration, and if that "old man eloquent" again visits his native country and city, we are likely to have such a gathering as has not been seen here for a quarter of a century. Burns's sons go to Daunfries, after having agreed to go to Glasgow, forgetting a former engagement. I am not yet certain whether I shall go to Ayr or remain here, but I shall keep you aware, if spared, of whatever occurs. Being an Ayrshire man, I am bound to do honor to the poet, but especially as being the descendant of one who spent with the poet and his friend, Tam Samson, many a happy "nicht."

GRAND BALL AT THE PALACE.—The ball which took Grand Ball at the Palack.—The ball which took place last evening, notwithstanding the severe losses which Malla society has lately sustained, and which have created irreparable gaps in our narrowed circle, was unusually brilliant, the attendance numerous, and the daucing kept up with spirit. Owing to the lamentable causes above referred to, the Admiral and General were absent; but the American navy was well represented by Admiral Lavallette, whose presence in the palace of the Grand Masters, from the name he bears, and we may add style and personel worthy of the associations connected with that name, seemed to link the present with the past.

The palace itself is as much improved internally as its courts are externally; and the lining of the corridors with Knights in armor, each bearing the arms of a former Grand Master, is an improvement as picturesque as it is effective. We were happy to see a large and soumerous assembly of Maltese society, and amongst the English, we observed Major and Lady Adela Buctson, Lady and Miss Somerset, Lord Newborough and the Honorable Miss Wymms, Captain and the Hon. Mrs. Foley, Colonel and the Hon. Mrs. Browne, and other distinguished persons.—London Times.

France Shipping.—A letter from France says: Gauthier, the builder, of Havre, has just sold the three finest steamers over built in France to the Peninsula Company, at $300,000 for the three. Every maritime company is falling. The finest first-class merchantmen are being fitted out for what it is the fashion now a-days to denominate "the China trade," but which has no other aim than the papers concerning this same commerce de la Clane. It means nothing else than the trade above specified.

Hanvans College, Ames A. Lawrence, has reported upon the finances of that institution for the year, from which it appears that the receipts have been $301,014-35, including $18,244-40, cash on hand at the commencement of the year. The expenditures have been $215,524-38, and there remains on hand in cash the sum of $25,517-47. The salary of the president of the college is $2,500, and his house rent; of Professor Huntington $2,500, and of most of the other professors $2.200. The amount of property belonging to the college, exclusive of the college and the grounds adjoining, is valued at $1,009,636-40. Of this amount, $563,104-85 is in notes and mortgages, and $168,559-68 in real estate.

EAST INDIAN IDOLATRY.—Rev. Baptist W. Noel, Lonlon, in his recent work on the government of India, makes the following singular and, doubtless, nuthentic

"In the Madras presidency there are now 8,292 idois and temples receiving from government as annual payment of £39,678. In the Bombay presidency there are 26,589 idols and temples under State patronage, receiving grants to the amount of £30,587 10s.; to which must be added the allowanze for temple lands—giving a total for the Bombay presidency of £59,859 6s. In the whole of the company's territories there is annually expended in the support of idolatry, by the servants of the company, the large sum of £171,558 12s."

In view of these facts, it is not surprising to learn (as we do through the Dublin University Magazine) that a prize of 50 guineas has been offered for the best essay on the position which the government of India ought to assume towards Christianity and Christian missions.

world has been an abundant one. No better evidence could be adduced of the plentiful crops in Europe this season than is shown in the falling off in the export thither of breadstuffs from the port of New York since the 1st of September 1sst, as compared with former years. Por this period in 1857 there were exported 361,090 harrels of flour, 2,750 000 bushels of wheat, and 500,000 bushels of corn, each export of which latter articles were in 1857 only about one-half of what they were in the previous year. For the present year the export is only about 78,000 burnels of flour, 412,000 bushels of wheat, and 319,000 bushels of corn, being altogether less in value than the corresponding export of last year by some four and a half millions of dollars.

FINE ARTS. - Surely the citizens of Washington are much indebted to the enterprise of Mr. Philp, in securing for exhibition here two such worlds of art as "Church's Niegera and Barker's "R Corse." When #6 first viewed them we felt compelled to endorse the opinion of that Prince of comic fellows, The London "Punch," when he said "This church of America should be visited by all worshippers of the beautiful." Can we say more than that in its praise? We think not! With regard to T. J. Barker's "Il Corso," we honestly confess we were not at all prepared to behold so fine, so noble a work. We have not lack of will, but space, or we could enter into a long discussion on the undoubted merit of these pictures, but we will only add every art lover should pay a visit to the rooms at once, lest they lose the opportunity. It has been difficult for Mr. Philp to obtain an extension of the time originally intended for Washington; but, owing to the unfavorable state of the weather, he has induced the parties in charge to delay their departure a few days longer. Let us hope they will be repaid for their courtesy Typographical Somery.—This society, it appears from the address delivered by Secretary McLean at the recent forty-fourth anniversary, has had but nineteen different presidents, although the elections have been held annually. It is also a noteworthy incident that the office of treasurer, in the forty-four years of the Society's exis-tence, has been held by but four gentlemen. Andrew Tate served in that capacity for two years : F. Coyle for five years; James Kennedy for thirteen years; and the present incumbent, Michael Caten, has entered upon his twenty-fifth year as the treasurer of the Columbia Typographical Society.

THEATRICAL.—The engagement of Agnes Robertson and of Dion Bourcicault has again made the Theatre attractive, and the stock company-entirely out of their depth in the performance of tragedies—really appear to a lyantage in farces and comedies.
